

STUDY AND RESEARCH RESOURCES

Here's some specific sites to assist you with your study subjects.

HSC Online

<http://www.hsc.csu.edu.au/>

NSW HSC online is a Charles Sturt University initiative that is an information network that services the HSC needs of students, teachers, schools and subject associations. Links include study and exam techniques, supporting agencies, teaching and learning online and school home pages. There is also a link to HSC subjects which allows you to access the syllabus and past HSC examination papers

Macarthur Girls Technology High School

<http://www.ozemail.com.au/~mghslib/>

This site provides web links on a number of topics relevant to HSC and high school students. To access follow the websites link.

History Online

<http://homepage.tig.com.au/~jaimed/history/index.html>

This website provides useful links to history resources for students in years 7-12. This includes resources for core and elective topics. Also provided is a link to General Studies online.

Australian Newspapers on the Net

<http://www.nla.gov.au/oz/npapers.html>

This website provides links to Australia's major and regional newspapers as well as some international papers. A useful resource for finding articles on your research topic.

Reconciliation and Social Justice Library

<http://www.austlii.edu.au/rsjlibrary>

This site contains information on Aboriginal Reconciliation, Wik, Social Justice issues, Stolen Generation, health and Deaths in Custody. There are also links to Indigenous legal resources.

Computerised Databases

CD-Roms contain databases which are indexes to articles in existing journals and magazines, both overseas and Australian. Databases provide a summary of articles in particular journals or magazines. These databases are regularly updated and are available in the State Library, all Tertiary institutions, and some local libraries.